

Mammographic Step Wedges

Model 017

Model 018

Ideal for evaluating system performance under varying exposure parameters

CIRS step-wedges can be used with standard densitometers to monitor system performance under changing exposure parameters.

Wedges are manufactured from tissue simulating materials which have been specially formulated to maximize simulation properties in the Mammographic Energy Range.